

I wanted to let you know what a benefit K-Love radio has been to me. The songs are encouraging and uplifting and the information about free-to-public events in my area is invaluable. I understand that LPFM stations provide great services like "Talking Book" for the blind and broadcast resources for schools. I also understand that they are just fine the way they are and don't need the airwaves currently occupied by K-Love and other stations that use FM translators. The positive message of K-Love - love your neighbor as yourself, do unto others as you would have them do unto you - is vastly superior to whatever programming might get passed off as "educational".
